Centralized Data Integration for Poultry Processing

One central data platform for all poultry processing activities

Meyn Connect consolidates data from poultry processing equipment into a single, user-friendly platform, ensuring consistency and transparency throughout the entire production line. By integrating data from various stages like slaughtering, evisceration, and distribution, the system enables real-time monitoring and traceability, helping processors optimize operations and meet regulatory requirements. With flexible configurations, Meyn Connect supports add-ons such as Yield Management, Factory Analytics, and Labeling, catering to specific operational needs and enhancing the overall processing workflow.

- ✓ Instant access to production data for optimal performance
- ✓ Full traceability from live bird handling to cut-up and distribution
- ✓ Reduces downtime and improves efficiency, boosting productivity
- ✓ Reduces administrative work by several hours a week

Track Individual Birds and Schedule Flocks

Ensure optimal processing and enhance operational efficiency

Meyn Connect enhances both flock scheduling and bird tracking throughout the processing line. The Flock Scheduler helps processors efficiently plan flock arrivals and manage daily schedules, while adapting to last-minute changes. At the same time, the Tracking Manager provides real-time tracking of individual birds, ensuring they are monitored from start to finish. This integration allows for precise coordination of flocks, accurate bird identification, and seamless scheduling, improving the flow of operations and reducing errors.
